

Edisson J. Ruiz

Class: WDD 130, Section 13

12 / 12 / 2022 Provo, UT, USA

Vegan Bake

Is a site about vegan food and style life. Here, you can fount people with these habits or people that want to start to change their lives and become more healthy with vegan food, fount information and experiences about the topic, recipes with different foods, snacks, shakes, etc., and courses to learn recipes and diet.

Audience

The content of the page is directed at adult people that want to improve their health with vegan food, special for people with diabetes, obesity, problems with cholesterol or heart.

URL

<https://yuriro21.github.io/wdd130/veganbake/index.html>

Objective

One of the purposes of this page is to help my mom in Venezuela, who is a specialist in vegan food, to reach and inform more people about the benefit of eating vegan food and have habits more health.

Design Process

The idea was for my mom, she is a chef in Venezuela so I want to help her with this new project, for me, the project is not finished, I think that there are many things to do, but it is a good start. The topic is Vegan food so I wanted to choose a green color for the page, the design of each page I wanted that was different one of the others and the images according with each page, I also added a picture of my mom giving a curse.

Conclusion

In this course, I learned a lot of great things that I was wondering how they work. I am very happy to learn the structure of a web page, how to build it, work with grid, fonts, margins, connect pages on the internet, and to have an infinite of possibilities to design with CSS. I liked learning about GitHub, and using visual studio to make the pages. I know that in a near future I'll can put into practice all this new knowledge in a job or maybe in my own project.